Date	Topics/ Skills covered
23 November 2024	You will be given a broad introduction to abstract painting through a number of quick, experimental exercises. You will first explore working from images, distilling them to their underlying abstract structure. You'll then learn about geometric abstraction, and how to structure an abstract composition from your own imagination. You will finish the day with exploring gestural and process-based painting. Throughout the day you will refer to historical and contemporary artists, looking both at their ideas and techniques.
24 November 2024	Using the techniques and ideas explored the previous day, you will work on an abstract painting inspired by an artist of your choice. This is a chance to make a large-scale, complete painting, developing your individual interest in painting.
